FIVE NEW SCHOOL HOUSES IN RUSH

All But One Will be Used For First
Time When Term Opens
Next Month.

CITY SCHOOLS OPEN SEPT. 9

Many Changes in Teaching Corps All Over the County Have Been Announced.

The vacation season for the school
kids is almost at an end. The first and second weeks in September will see the opening not only of the city
schools, but also of most of the schools in the county. The city schools will be opened Monday, September ninth, or the second week of the month. Along with the announcement of the beginning of the new school year comes the announcement of the changes in the teaching
force in the city and county.

The schools in Anderson, Center,
Posey, Walker and Washington
townships will begin the first Monday
in September—the second. Those in Jackson, Noble, Richland and Rush-
ville townships will be opened the second Monday in September—the ninth. The date for the opening in the other three townships, Orange,
Ripley and Union, is indefinite yet,
because of the new school buildings
that are being erected there.

This calls attention to the fact that probably no county in Indiana
is more fortunate as to have as many
new school houses as has Rush
county. Five new school buildings
are now in the process of erection,
and a fifth one has just been completed and made ready for the opening of school. Most of the buildings were condemned by the State board of health as unsanitary and new ones were ordered built in their stead.

The building which has been finished is the new high school building
at New Salem. A new school building to cost $25,000 is now being built at Moseow. It will probably not be ready for use before the first of the year. The Ernest school in Ripley
township will not be finished in time
for the opening of the regular school
year, and the time will be deferred
for a short time until it is ready for entrance.

The Union township school children will have a nice new school building at Glenwood in which to begin this year. It is not certain when it will be finished, and the school will not open when the rest does. The new Center township school building
at Mays will be completed in time for the opening of school. The other township having a new building this year is Noble. It is said that the building at New Salem will be the finest one of the lot.

Many changes will be made in the school teaching force of the county.
Several new faces will be seen in the high school faculty here. O. L. Ra-ber will teach science instead of Prof. M. R. McDaniel who resigned
to accept the position as assistant principal of Oak Park high school, Chicago. O. D. Tyner, who has been on the faculty for several years will be the principal. Miss Nelle Baldwin of Greenfield will teach Latin instead of Miss Adah Rogers, who resigned last year. Miss Helen M.
Scott of Clinton will be supervisor of music in the Rushville schools, succeeding Miss Isabelle Melcher who resigned last year.

The faculty of the Carthage high school will be new throughout due to the shakeup in the school management there last year. W. W. Lindley was released as superintendent of the schools because of trouble he
and the school board president had

NOT FAMILY OF DESERTERS

Blaine Ball, Nominee, Announces He Hails From Rush County.

Blaine Ball of Alexandria, Madison county, who hails from Rush
county where the Ball family sprung
up, was nominated for prosecutor at
the Republican Madison county convention at Anderson this week. He acknowledged the honor bestowed
upon him after the nomination. Mr.
Ball, in the course of his remarks,
observed that he belonged to the Republican Ball family of Rush county
which had never been known to desert the G. O. P.

DOUBLE FUNERAL IS SAD AFFAIR

Local Relatives Attend Last Sad
Rites Performed Over Bodies
of Mr. and Mrs. David Black.

LAI D TO REST SIDE BY SIDE

A large number of relatives and friends attended the double funeral of Mr. and Mrs. David Black, formerly of this city, whose tragic
death at their home in Lancaster, O.,
was described yesterday, at Centerville, Wayne county yesterday. The ceremonies were conducted by Rev.
Mr. Ryder of the Centerville Methodist church at Bryant's chapel and the two bodies were laid to rest, side
by side, in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Black was a sister of the late
John H. Brown and Mrs. Margaret Windler of Jersey City. She was born and reared in Rushville and was
more familiarly known here as Sarah Brown. Mrs. Mary Brown
and son Charles Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Windler and Mrs. Margaret Windler attended the funeral.

The dispatch telling of the terrible
death of Mr. and Mrs. Black was addressed to John H. Brown, and received here early in the week, but it was returned because Mr. Brown's name was not given in the directory
and no further inquiry was made.
That accounts for the news being received here so late.

DEMME BROTHERS TO QUIT BUSINESS

Suit For Dissolution of Partnership
and Appointment of Receiver
Filed in Circuit Court.

ELMER C. WILLIAMS NAMED

John A. Demmer has filed suit in the circuit court against Peter T.
Demmer, asking that the partnership
be dissolved and a receiver appointed. Elmer Williams was appointed receiver by Judge Blair and gave bond in the sum of $2000.

John and Peter Demmer have been
in the retail and wholesale cigar
business here since 1907, doing business
under the firm name of Demmer Brothers. The place of business is in the Finney room next to the I. &
C. station. The complaint states that their debts amount to $3250
and both partners are insolvent. It is a friendly suit and was brought to dispose of the business. Elmer Williams, as the receiver, will proceed to close out the business. The store will be open as usual until the work is completed.

FAMILY RELICS ARE DISPLAYED

First Declaration of Independence in Maryland Signed by Benj.
and James Norris.

FACSIMILE SHOWN AT REUNION

Medal Won by Ancestors for Bravery in War of 1812 Exhibited—65 Attend.

The annual Norris family reunion
was held at the fair ground yesterday, and the event was so pleasant
that the crowd did not disperse until after six o'clock in the evening. The large basket dinner was spread in agricultural hall, and the sixty-five descendants of Benjamin Norris did full justice to it. The table extended from one end of the hall to the other.

An interesting feature of the reunion yesterday was the exhibition
of a facsimile copy of the first
declaration of independence, ever drawn up in the United States. It was of interest to the members of the Norris family because of the fact that two members of the family affixed their signature to it.

The two Norrises who signed their names to this old document, which was drawn up as a protest against the rule of the British were Benjamin Bradford Norris and James Norris.
Benjamin Norris was an uncle of the members of the family who live in Rushville. The facsimile copy is the property of Mrs. C. H. Gilbert and was drawn up in Maryland before
the original Declaration of Independence was executed at Philadelphia. It was only recently procured by Mrs. Gilbert in Maryland
and was exhibited for the first time
at the family reunion yesterday.

Another relic that is highly prized
by the Norris family and was shown at the family reunion yesterday for the first time, is a gold medal won by Benjamin Norris for his bravery in the war of 1812 as a sailor. The medal was brought here by Mrs.
Elizabeth Bush of Kentucky. Another relic in this connection which is being preserved by the family is an interview which Capt. Norris gave out on his return from the war and
which was published in the Cincinnati Enquirer.

A long program was carried out in the afternoon. An interesting feature of this was an original short story, "Watermelon Joe," written by Mrs. W. E. Ochiltree of Connersville
and read by the author. The story
has already been sold to a popular fiction magazine. Mrs. Ochiltree has sold another story in addition to the one read yesterday.

A short talk was made by O. C.
Norris, city councilman, and by other members of the family. After the program had been completed the crowd was entertained with a ball game by the men folks. The fans lined up against the leans, and
though they were compelled to spend
most of the time between balls in mopping the perspiration, they were victorious over the leans in the end.

The same set of officers was elected for the following year as follows:
Albert Norris, president; Will Norris of Delphi, vice-president; Mrs.
Entis Parrish, secretary and D. C.
Norris, treasurer.

Among the members of the family
from a distance were: Miss Ella Norris of Norris Station, Ind.; Mr.
and Mrs. Oliver Norris of Milroy;
Mrs. Elizabeth Norris of Kentucky;
Mrs. W. E. Ochiltree of Conners-
ville; Miss Ella Coleman of Yorkers, N. Y., and James Norris of Glenwood.

PREDICTS THIRD LARGEST YIELD

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson
Says Corn Crop Will be Largest in History.

WITH TWO EXCEPTIONS ONLY

Oats Yield Expected to be Largest Ever Harvested—Corn Crop Tremendous.

Although he declared that the price of beef next winter would be cheaper than for a number of years,
Secretary Wilson, of the department
of agriculture, admitted today that
the cheap meat of a decade ago
would never again be obtained. In addition, Secretary Wilson declared that crops throughout the United States would be greater than for a number of years, while, in several instances, records are expected to go
by the boards.

The high cost of living will be greatly reduced this year because of these bumper crops, while the third greatest corn crop in the history of the country would be harvested next fall, he stated.

The high cost of living, of the extreme drought and the fact that have
on the agricultural products of the United States last year, is his explanation of the bountiful crops to be harvested this year.

"Beef will be cheaper next winter
than it has been for a number of years," predicted Secretary Wilson.
"The high cost of beef is due to the small corn crop of last year. The best beef is fed on corn, but with corn so scarce that the product
soared to a price of 70 cents a bushel, many cattle raisers did not feel that they could feed their cattle for slaughtering purposes on corn and get their money back. The result was that little good quality beef entered Chicago, making prices automatically higher.

"This year the corn crop will reach
more than 2,800,000,000 bushels, or
the third largest in the history of the country. This will lower the price of beef an appreciable degree,
and will be aided by the splendid
hay and oats crops that will be harvested. Of course, the price of beef
will never be as low as it was at one time.

"This is due to the fact that the broad grazing lands have been split
into homesteads, and the space is not available for the grazing of a sufficient number of cattle to meet
the demand.

"The oats crop is expected to be
the largest that we have ever harvested, while the hay crop will be tremendous. In fact, every product
will be harvested in great quantities,
with the exception of cotton, which
will fall slightly below the average.
The wheat crop will total about 680-000,000 bushels, and grass, potatoes
and the smaller grains will be harvested in abundance.

"The good peach crop, which is being gathered throughout the peach
districts is taken as an indication
that all fruit will be in large quantities this year. Apples, as they appear at the present time, are excellent, but, of course, weather conditions may change this. Altogether,
the outlook is so promising as to indicate a reduction in the cost of living next winter."

MULEY COW IS STUBBORN

Jerks Rope and Dislocates John Kemple's Shoulder.

John Kemple of Gowdy was leading a muley cow down the road yesterday when the bovine suddenly became stubborn. All the persuasive methods of man could not induce the cow to budge. Mr. Kemple was resigned to a few hours' rest along the hot roadway when the cow made a sudden movement and jerked with such force on the rope with which
Mr. Kemple was leading her that his shoulder was dislocated. He suffered severe pain until a physician arrived to set the dislocation.

SPECIAL ARTICLES ON ROAD BUILDING

Daily Republican Will Publish "Home Course" For Benefit of Farmers Generally.

PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS

The question of better roads is one of the most important now before the people of Indiana. There is no doubt that something should be done; just what, is subject to a diversity of opinion.

The Daily Republican has secured
a series of twelve articles entitled
a "Home Course in Road Making,"
by Logan Waller Page, director of the Office of Public Roads in the Department of Agriculture. Mr. Page is one of the greatest road men in this or of any other country, and
what he says on the various phases of the road question can be said to be authoritative. He represents no interests except the interests of the people. He has given many years of his life to the study of the question
in all its phases, and is regarded by those in a position to know as at the top in his profession.

Clarence A. Kenyon of Indianapolis, president of the Indiana Good Roads association, who has done and is doing so much to promote the cause of better roads in this state,
heartily indorses this "Home Course," believing it to possess large educational value.

EXCLUSIVE FOR PEOPLE OF RUSH

Display of Agricultural Products at Fair is Only Open to This County.

NO FOREIGN COMPETITION

The fair association is desirous of a large exhibit of agricultural products at the fair next week. Unlike other fairs and exhibits, at this fair
the agricultural hall is exclusive for Rush county people and for this if no other reason, a large display of farm products should be made.

Persons who display their agricultural products here next week
must be Rush county people and the display Rush county products. In this manner no foreign competition is permitted. It tends to create a home
interest and when this is generally known the fair will be better than ever. It is the opinion of Will Brown, president of the fair board that if
the agricultural display comes up to the expectations the fair will be the best ever, as more stuff will be seen on the grounds this year than ever before.

HE DRAWS THE LARGEST CROWD

Madison County Republican Convention Reconvenes When James E. Watson Arrives.

AUDIENCES TWICE AS LARGE

He Declares Democrats And Bull
Moosers Are Envious of the Republican Party.

For the first time in his political career James E. Watson observed a convention reconvened for the express purpose of hearing his address.
Mr. Watson was to have appeared before the Madison county Republican convention at 10:30 a. m., but he was delayed and did not reach Anderson until in the afternoon. In the meantime the convention had nominated a ticket and disposed of all other business. But when it recon-vened to hear Mr. Watson, not a delegate nor alternate was missing and all other seats in the grand opera
house were filled with men and women waiting to hear the address.
Watson was applauded when introduced by George S. Parker. In opening his address Mr. Watson said:

"Mr. Chairman and fellow Republicans: If I wanted to make a speech to all the Republicans in Madison county I could take them
into a parlor of a hotel, according to some of the newspaper reports, but
my friends of the press are often times misled."

The next phase of the political situation taken was that of the tariff question. Watson defended the protective tariff by the report of Samuel Gompers, head of labor unions on
the comparison of the labor conditions in the United States and in Europe, in which Mr. Gompers stated that the labor conditions here were twice as good as those of the European countries.

Watson furthermore stated that
"in 1892 the Democratic party had a man named Wilson who was also a college professor, who arranged a tariff bill for revenue only which eventually brought on the financial distress of the ensuing year, and that it seems very evident that for some reason the followers of the Mule manage to get a Wilson about every twenty years."

Mr. Watson said Wilson is a fine
man and that his theory was a beautiful one but that the main objection
to it was that it would not work.

Getting down to local conditions,
Watson said:

"The third party is stronger in Madison county than any other county in the State that I know of although it is also very strong in several parts of California, but still,
from all observations which I have been able to make I sincerely believe that William Howard Taft or Woodrow Wilson will be the next President of the United States."

Watson also charged the Democrats and Progressives with being envious. He said: "The Democratic party call it political economy and
the Progressives call it inspiration,
but in reality it is no more or less than pure and unadulterated envy."

In defense of trusts, Watson said:
"The evolution of the so called trusts or combines are merely out-
growths of our industrial progress,
and although there have been many
crises against them there are more legal combinations in the United States than there are illegal ones."

"I have read the Socialistic literature and can honestly say that it is a most beautiful theory and I wish it were true, but it isn't."

Mr. Watson stated that a man was made great by the principles that he followed, but a leader never followed

RIDERS CAUSED MR. TAFT'S VETO

Even Though He Did Cut Off
His Own Pay.

CONDEMNED CONGRESS'S WAYS

Washington, August 16.—President Taft vetoed the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, carrying $34,000,000 for the operation of the government during the present fiscal year, because it makes no provision for the continuance of the commerce court and includes the "seven year tenure clause" relative to government clerks.

House leaders failed in their third successive effort to override the president when they sought to pass the bill over Mr. Taft's veto. The vote, 153 to 107, was twenty short of the requisite two-thirds of those voting.

The president's veto is sure to extend the session of the congress. Some members of the house believe the bill can be passed over his disapproval in the house as were the wool and steel tariff bills. None of the leaders, however, think that would be possible in the senate. One effect of Mr. Taft's veto of the bill is to hold up his own pay, that of every member of congress, every federal judge and every employee of the United States courts. Some leaders have proposed a plan of passing a resolution to extend all last year's appropriations to Dec. 2, and adjourn congress without passing the bill.

Mr. Taft's message was strong in its condemnation of the way congress had attached special legislation to an annual appropriation bill. The president wrote that he approved any system of promoting efficiency in the civil service and favored a civil pension system, but he could not approve any legislation to turn out of office employees who had given their best years to the government. The president defended the commerce court vigorously and wrote that opposition to it came from those who had not been in sympathy with its decisions.

POSTCARD CLUE MAY MEAN THEIR UNDOING

Gyp the Blood and Lefty Louie Write.

New York, Aug. 16.—In the West Side court prison Bridget Webber enjoyed a friendly greeting from the two murderers of Herman Rosenthal who are still at large—Harry Horowitz (Gyp the Blood) and Louis Rosenzweig (Lefty Louie).

From Methuen, Mass., they sent to Webber a picture postcard bearing this hopeful and optimistic message: "Do the best you can. We're all right.—Your Pals, L. and G."

Within a few hours central office men were on their way to Methuen, confident that they would be able to locate the fugitives. Max D. Steuer, Webber's counsel, having obtained the tip from Webber, handed it over to the district attorney, who supplied the information to Deputy Commissioner Dougherty. Webber was deeply impressed with the message. He told Mr. Steuer that he believed it was genuine and that Horowitz and Rosenzweig wanted merely to show him that they were not afraid of police activities.

THE BIG STICK FOR NICARAGUA

Uncle Sam Sending a Large Force of Marines,

MANY MORE MAY BE NEEDED

Situation in Capital of Disturbed Central American Republic is Such That American Interests Are Being Endangered—Continued Bombardment by the Rebels May Lead to Further Action on Our Part.

Washington, Aug. 16.—The situation at the Nicaraguan capital continues serious, although the collier Justin arrived at Corinto Wednesday night and the 350 marines she conveyed from Panama were rushed ashore and sent to Managua, and there appears the possibility that more marines may be sent to the scene. With the 100 blue-jackets sent to Managua from the United States gunboat Annapolis last week, there are now 450 American troops in the capital.

Owing to the danger from the continued bombardments of Managua by rebels to the American legation and consulate and other American citizens there and to representations that have been received at the department from Americans in Nicaragua and important business interests in the United States, the question of sending more troops and a special observer or commissioner is being considered.

The gunboat Denver, which sailed from San Diego Sunday is expected at Corinto today. The Denver is not carrying marines, but could land 200 or more bluejackets if necessary. Wire communication is still interrupted and Mr. Wetzel, the American minister, is having difficulty communicating the developments to the state department.

Secretary Knox and Party Enroute to Attend Late Mikado's Funeral.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Rear Admiral Edward Reynolds, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, has been detailed by the president as naval aide to Secretary of State Knox on his mission to Japan to attend the funeral of the late mikado. Mr. Knox will leave Washington at 6:45 this evening and will be accompanied by Mrs. Knox and Ransford Miller, chief of the far eastern division, as secretary of the mission. Admiral Reynolds is expected to join the party at Seattle and Brigadier General J. J. Pershing will join them at Yokohama to serve as military attaché. The trip across the Pacific will be made on the armored cruiser Maryland.

Jealous Woman Shot Rival.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 16.—Mrs. Alva Cave, daughter-in-law of the Rev. R. Lin Cave, chaplain general of the United Confederate Veterans, was murdered and Mrs. J. G. Jones, aged twenty-four, is in jail accused of the killing, which is said to have been impelled by jealousy. The victim was a widow, thirty years old. Mrs. Jones had filed a suit for divorce, and was living apart from her husband.

Nat Goodwin Laid Up.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 16.—Nat Goodwin, the actor, was badly injured at Rocky Point, near Hueneme, by being thrown on the rocks from a skiff. The heavy breakers threw the actor out of the boat upon the rocks, and then, while he was helpless, the boat was dashed upon him. His injuries are mainly internal and the doctors cannot tell whether they will prove fatal.

The Detroit Graft Cases.

Detroit, Aug. 16.—The nine re-arrested aldermen charged with grafting in office were dismissed from the second charges, but they are already scheduled to appear for hearing on Aug. 20 to answer a charge of bribery and conspiracy.

RETALIATION

Britons Fixing to "Get Even" For Proposed New Canal Law.

London, Aug. 16.—The Evening News points out that there are many ways in which England and other powers could retaliate if the Panama canal bill providing for discriminating rates in favor of American ships became a law. For instance, they could boycott the San Francisco exposition or levy poll tax on passengers coming from America on their ships, using the proceeds to refund the canal tolls to shippers; or levy special duties on American manufactures.

However, adds the News, until the proposed Panama canal law is an accomplished fact it would be unwise to assume that a friendly government would be so far blinded by purely selfish motives as to allow its treaty with England to be trampled on.

Boy Killed in Ball Game.

Valparaiso, Ind., Aug. 16.—In a baseball game Robert McGinley batted a liner to Ray McGinley, his ten-year-old son, who was playing at shortstop. The ball escaped through young McGinley's hands and struck his right temple. The lad was knocked senseless, but recovered in time to finish the game, and accompanied his father home. Symptoms of a concussion of the brain became evident, and the boy died without recovering from the comatose condition into which he sank early in the evening.

The Third Alien Convicted.

Wytheville, Va., Aug. 16.—Fried Allen, one of the mountain outlaws, charged with complicity in the Hillsville courthouse murders last March, pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree and was sentenced to eighteen years in the penitentiary. Two others have been convicted of first degree murder and two more members of the gang are about to be tried.

Alpine Climbers Killed.

London, Aug. 16.—Prof. Humphrey Owen Jones, F. R. S., a distinguished scientist, and his wife, while on their honeymoon, were killed by falling from a glacier while ascending one of the peaks of Mont Blanc. Mrs. Jones was a niece of the bishop of St. Asaph. A guide named Truffer also perished.

Kern Retained by Defense.

Indianapolis, Aug. 16.—United States Senator John W. Kern will be one of the attorneys for the fifty-one defendants in the dynamite conspiracy trials, which are scheduled to begin in the federal court Oct. 1, and are expected to continue for two or three months.

Girl's Body Found Mangled.

Delaware, O., Aug. 16.—Elena Troutman, a fifteen-year-old high school girl, whose dead body was found strewn along the Pennsylvania railroad tracks near here, was murdered and did not commit suicide, is the belief of Coroner Beck.

Will Meet at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Aug. 16.—The thirty-sixth annual session of the American Humane association will be held here Oct. 14, 15 and 16.

County Commissioners' Convention.

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 16.—The annual meeting of the county commissioners of Indiana is to be held here Sept. 25 and 26.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
(By E. O. SELLERS, Director of Evening Department, The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
LESSON FOR AUGUST 18.
THE RULER'S DAUGHTER.
LESSON TEXT—Mark 5:21-23.
GOLDEN TEXT—"And taking the child by the hand he said unto her, Talitha cumi; which is, being interpreted, Damsel, I say unto thee, arise." Mark 5:41.
This is one of the most beautiful stories of the Bible. It appeals to the loving parents' heart; and charms the attention of every child in the home. The introduction of the woman who touched his garment is referred to by three of the gospel writers and show us an intensely interesting side light as to the reception accorded Jesus during his Galilean ministry.
The dramatic personae is as follows: First, the father. From his life he is about to lose all the poetry and music of his home.
Second, the child. She was only twelve years old, just on the threshold of Jewish womanhood. It takes no imagination to picture her life up to this time, how it had entwined itself into the heart of the father as well as the other loved ones. The stricken diseased child is yet to be found in the land, that is what makes the picture so vivid. Why this suffering? Why these separations? We cannot reply but our Heavenly Father knows it all, and some day we will read his answer in the glory of his presence.
Third, the woman. Who, where from, nor whither to, we are not told. Only one of that vast throng who had just faith to touch the hem of his garment, and she was made whole.
Calm Dignity of Jesus.
And lastly, the Galilean prophet. One whose response to the cry of need was so instantaneous albeit without haste or fret or unrest. We can, in imagination, see them as they walk along the roadway. Jesus certainly had a meaning in pausing as they are interrupted for we must remember that the woman was healed the moment she touched his garment and before they paused. Having taught the multitude and encouraged the heart of Jairus they reach the home and allowing none but his elect three, Peter, James and John, he enters the house, which is now in a tumult due to the weeping and wailing of the mourners, both the professional and the bereaved. Again we are impressed with the calm dignity of Jesus as he asked them "Why this tumult? The child only sleeps." Their laughing scorn is due to their ignorance of the power of this man, though the record is a strong emphasis upon the fact that the child was really dead.
When he had turned the unbelievers out, Jesus takes the father and mother and the disciples into the death chamber, the occasion was too sacred for the mere manifestation of power before a crowd. Taking the child by the hand, a personal touch, not by proxy, Jesus speaks those wonderful words which form the golden text.
Beautiful Love Picture.
Having restored the child to its parents Jesus admonishes them not to publish the news broadcast, evidently as he was not ready to precipitate matters in the minds of the multitude for of a surety he knew that in certain quarters the fact of the cure would be known.
This is a beautiful love picture:
1. The father's love—v. 22-24.
(a) His need.
(b) His position, "at Jesus' feet."
(c) His plea, "I pray thee."
(d) His insistence, "besought greatly."
2. The stranger's plea—v. 25-24.
(a) An interruption.
(b) Of long standing.
(c) Jesus' knowledge.
(d) Jesus' response.
(e) Her confession.
(f) Her blessing.
4. The Master's love—v. 35-43.
(a) Jesus' knowledge (child not dead in his sight).
(b) Delay not mean refusal.
(c) The tender resurrection, an answer to faith.
(d) The provision for all her needs.
Sorrow brought Jairus to Jesus and sorrow today brings more men to Jesus than perhaps any other one means. Jairus was a ruler of the synagogue and as such had to lay aside his pride and his hostility to make his plea or to accept service of Jesus, and so must we lay aside our pride when we come to the Nazarene, casting ourselves as did Jairus in the dust at his feet, but notice Jesus did not suffer him long to remain in that place.
There are three recorded instances where Jesus raised the dead; this "only daughter," an "only son" of a widow and the "only brother," Lazarus of Mary and Martha. Jesus is saying still to the afflicted and to the fearful, "only believe." He wants us to learn that the tap root of fear is unbelief. His only condition is that we believe. Jesus did not stop to argue with the scornful mourners. Arguments never convince men, but deeds will shut the mouth of the most blatant scorner.
We have in this lesson all the ne-

Christian Endeavor
By E. P. Gates
TOPIC FOR AUGUST 18.
Christian Tact. John 4:1-30.
Tact is contact without friction. A fight may win a victory, but it will not convince the enemy. You can drive a man by force, but it takes something else to persuade him.
Tact comes from service. A man spends years to develop the sense of touch that enables him to judge correctly the quality of different grains. The touch needed to deal with human lives can only be acquired by the same process.
Whose eyes are you using? The man who depends on his own vision exclusively will be touchy rather than tactful. The successful lawyer must know his opponents' care as well as his own. The successful salesman strives to put himself in the place of his customer. We shall be more successful in carrying Christ's message as we learn to look more through the eyes of other people.
Tender feelings usually go with a narrow vision. A broad outlook is the best cure for suspicion and envy. When we stop trying to fit everybody's eyes to our own spectacles, we can scrape up old battleships and turn our big guns into park ornaments.
Christ was pre-eminently tactful. He could deal with men and women of all classes without offense because he understood them and met them on their own ground. He is the master teacher of diplomacy. We shall be tactful, too, when we learn to heed his lessons.
Next Week's Meeting.

Endeavor Around the World.
Chicago has a Persian Christian Endeavor society with a membership of more than forty.
There are 731 Christian Endeavor societies in China. Mr. and Mrs. Strother, the field secretaries for that country, are supported by the Endeavorers of Missouri.
You can read the Japanese Christian Endeavor World from either end. The first two pages are printed in English, while the remainder of the magazine, beginning at the back, is printed in Japanese.
The efficiency campaign recently inaugurated by the United Society of Christian Endeavor, is being received with enthusiasm everywhere. It means better work for every society that adopts it. A stamp to E. P. Gates, Field Secretary, Illinois C. E. Union, will bring full information. His address is 820 Association building, Chicago, Ill.

Bull Moose Chances.

During a moment of elation at Chicago some of the leaders of the Progressive party predicted great triumphs for it in many States, says the St. Louis Globe Democrat. According to Gifford Pinchot, a resident of Pennsylvania, Roosevelt will get a majority of about 300,000 there in November. His lead in Illinois, says Raymond Robbins says, will not be less than 100,000. One of California's delegates figures that he will have a margin in that State of anywhere from 25,000 upward. Comfortable majorities are predicted for him in Kansas, South Dakota, Minnesota and several other western States by residents of those commonwealths. If the forecasts of some of the leaders of the new party from the West, the Middle West and the South are trustworthy, the colonel may run Taft and Wilson pretty close in the election.

It is not necessary to give much attention to these prophecies. All new parties run better in August than they do in November. There is an especial reason to make mistakes in the case of the Progressives. In the primaries a few months ago Roosevelt left Taft far behind in Illinois, Pennsylvania, Kansas, New Jersey, Maryland, South Dakota and a few other States. At that time, however, the colonel was a Republican, and was seeking the Republican candidacy. He has left the Republican party since then, and has founded a new political sect. Apparently he has cut loose permanently from his old affiliations. His attacks in the past few weeks have been on the Republican party chiefly. The warfare which his convention started is against Republicans almost solely. Such epithets as the Progressives hand out to the Democrats are mild compared with those which they hurl at the Republican party.

This change in the situation will necessarily affect the colonel's fortunes. Many of his supporters in the Republican convention in June have abandoned him since. Few of them participated in the August assemblage. True, he has just carried Kansas in the primary on electors. One of his supporters has won the nomination for the governorship, and others of them have scored some triumphs. But this does not indicate any powerful drift to him anywhere. In the interval between now and November the people of Kansas will be compelled to do some serious thinking. They will ask themselves whether it will be worth while for them to hand their State over to the Democrats. Kansas gave its electoral vote to Weaver, the Populist, in 1892, and to Bryan in 1896, but it suffered a loss in self-respect and in general prestige thereby from which it barely extricated itself by the succession of Republican victories since then. In Kansas as in other States in which the colonel seems to be strong now, he is likely to fall back materially before November.

The Difference.

One of the propositions upon which Roosevelt and Wilson differ radically is the initiative and referendum. It is one of Roosevelt's pet hobbies. Wilson pronounces it a failure. The plan was adopted in Switzerland in 1897, and has had over twenty years of trial. While generally referred to as one distinct method the law provides for two distinct methods in action. The referendum is in practice all that is used. It provides that proposed laws shall be submitted to the people for their approval before final enactment. The initiative, not often used, provides that on petition of a certain number of voters a proposed law must be passed and submitted to the whole people for approval, or rejection. Regarding the initiative, Prof. Wilson, on page 311, paragraph 655, "The State," says:

"The initiative has been very little used, having given place in practice, for the most part, to the referendum. Where it has been employed it has not promised either progress or enlightenment, leading rather to doubtful experiments and to reactionary displays of prejudice than to real legislation. In both sides of the great Canons of Zurich and Berne, the most popular and influential in the confederation, it has been used to abolish compulsory vaccination. It was established for the confederation only six years ago, and has been used in federal legislation only to aim a blow at the Jews, under the guise of a law forbidding the slaughtering of animals by bleeding."

Sam Sanderson Says:

That many a story with a happy ending finds its last resting place anything but happily—in the waste basket.

Speaking of the referendum itself, Wilson says on page 312, section 653: "It has led in most cases to the rejection of radical legislation, even to the rejection of radical labor legislation, such as the ordinary voter might be expected to accept with avidity. The Swiss populations, being both homogeneous and deeply conservative, have resisted, as perhaps no other people have the infection of modern radical opinion. They have shown themselves apt to reject also, complicated measures which they do not fully comprehend, and measure involving expense which seems to them unnecessary. And yet they have shown themselves not a little indifferent too. The vote upon most measures submitted to the ballot is usually very light: there is not much popular discussion; and the referendum by no means creates that quick interest in affairs which its originators had hoped to see; it excite. It has dulled the sense of responsibility among legislators without in fact quickening the people to the exercise of any real control in affairs."

This briefly was Woodrow Wilson's opinion of the initiative and referendum while he was a college professor and not a candidate. It is fair to say that now he is a candidate and not a college professor, he is for the initiative and referendum. He is like that other equally diplomatic professor who averred that he would teach the world to be round or flat, "accordin' to the sentiment of the community."

At last the Wayne county Republican central committee is rid of its traitors for the first time in several years. They were willingly resigned and the work of reorganizing the committee is going on. It is the best thing that could have happened for the Republican party in Wayne county.

To call Penrose a boss and remove him from power and then to substitute Boss Flinn and pretend that such movements are in the interests of the people, naturally shakes the faith of those who are looking for the genuine in these professions.

To encourage gardening it should be said that there are instances, authenticated by responsible people, where persons who raise fruits within the limits of the town have been able to gather some portion of the product for themselves.

The Mexican Revolutionists have been walking up and down our back yard fence for 18 months, ostentatiously displaying the chips on their shoulder. They can't understand how Uncle Sam can keep on doing anything so inglorious as hoeing the garden.

There has always been in the Republican party in the past, tendency to harmonize differences and unify conflicting interests, which should make the November outlook very different from that when the conventions closed.

After the chautauqua, family reunions and county fairs, what more can we do than wait until court opens to settle our difficulties.

The Shelbyville Republican very aptly observes that all great men are not born great. Some are self-made.

An esteemed contemporary opines that a man who steals a girl's heart is liable to servitude for life. What, with the divorce courts? Whence are we whenceing?

The small boy walks an hour in the hot sun for 15 minutes cool swimming.

Why is it that when you have but 45 cents in your pocket, your best girl always persists in going around by the ice cream saloon, and in looking in to see if she can discern any friends?

How can you expect that anybody is going to make any money, with the decline that has taken place in the number of failures?

HILARIOUS RIDE
ENDS IN MISHAP

Dr. Byron Blair and Robert Peele, Lewisville Editor, Thrown From Auto While Speeding.

BOTH ARE SLIGHTLY HURT

Dr. Byron Blair, a prominent physician, and Robert Peele, editor of the National Road Traveler, both of Lewisville, were painfully injured in an automobile accident at the L. E. & W. railroad crossing, west of Centerville Wednesday at midnight. They were taken to Centerville and later taken to their home in another automobile.

Blair and Peele had been to Richmond in the afternoon. Enroute back to Lewisville they stopped at Centerville and Joe Groves and Delbert Smith of Dublin were taken into the car, which belongs to Blair. The night was clear and the doctor let his machine out, going through the west part of town, until it was traveling at high speed. The railroad tracks angle across the road, and when the machine struck them it was swerved back and forth until a wheel broke, and the passengers were dumped out. Blair and Peele were the only ones hurt.

MAKING SURVEY.

Brookville American: The engineers began the survey Tuesday for the change in the I. & C. traction line down Cracker Ridge. So far the surveyors are well pleased with the new route. The grade will average less than 2 per cent and the alignment is better than the original route surveyed. A re-survey of the line over Boundary Hill will also be made.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE.

HE THOUGHT 15 CENTS WOULD DO

James Watson, Jr., Discovered, After Arriving in Greensburg, he Had Hole in His Pocket.

HE HAD LOST ALL HIS MONEY

Hits Web Woodfill For a Loan of 15 Cents But 50 is Pressed on Him.

James Watson, Jr., son of the Rushville statesman, tired of the quiet of his home town came to Greensburg Thursday in company with a number of boy friends and on arriving in the city automatically gravitated to the Greek candy kitchen to seek cooling refreshments after the long and hot bicycle trip, says the Greensburg Review. The boys greatly enjoyed the refreshments but when settling time came young Watson was greatly embarrassed to find that he was broke, absolutely broke.

On investigation it was found that he had a large sized hole in the pocket in which he carried his money, and on the trip down all his ready cash had been scattered along the road between here and Rushville. This was a time that demanded quick thinking.

He was a stranger to the Greeks, and of course could not explain the situation to them. Then he began to think of all the people he knew in Greensburg. It occurred to him that Web Woodfill might help him out of the difficulty, and so he hurried to Web's office.

After exchanging greetings he explained that he was in a serious predicament because of the loss of his money, and wanted to know if he could negotiate a loan. Web told him that such a thing was possible, and inquired as to the amount that would be necessary to get him out of his trouble.

Young Watson figured a bit, thought the matter over carefully and announced that fifteen cents would fix him alright. Mr. Woodfill told him that under the circumstances probably he had better take a half dollar, and the embryo statesman said that while he could make fifteen cents do it might be better to take the fifty, and the money was paid over.

Before leaving town James learned that fifty cents in Greensburg is not as much as fifteen cents in his home town.

NOTED BROOD MARE KILLED

Lady, Dam of Fast Horses, Felled by Lightning.

A noted brood mare, Lady, the dam of two celebrated pacers, was killed by lightning at the Posey stock farm recently. She was owned by Will A. Fentress of near Knightstown. During her career she dropped several fast horses, notably Star Patch, 2:04 1/4 and LaCosta, 2:13 1/4. LaCosta holds the world's record in a three heat race on a half mile track. The mare was twenty-four years old, was sired by Col. Howe, and was the daughter of Daisy, by Tom Falmer.

BILLY WAS SEEN.

AMUSEMENTS

The Princess offers for the first picture a feature Kalem war drama, "The Drummer Girl of Vicksburg." It is a historical picture showing many thrilling battle scenes. It is one of the Kalem company's most successful war dramas and is said to be a thriller. The other is an Edison drama, "The Man Who Made Good." Tomorrow the Vitagraph drama, "Mockery" will be shown.

The Portola will have a double program tonight showing three reels of pictures. "A Modern Portia" is a Lubin drama, offering many sensational scenes. The second film is "Pathe Weekly No. 23." These Pathe films of current events are always well received. The last picture is a comedy featuring John Bunny. It is entitled "Who's to Win." A special musical program has been arranged.

J. G. Bennett suffered a fractured rib last week while lifting. The injury has caused him much suffering.

"Don't you believe it," she said. "Right now I'm almost afraid of my laurels—that isn't a pun, dear. I have no doubt Hap will have you in a corner talking baseball if he can get you there, and will probably introduce you to the '09's. Besides Natalie has promised to look out for you"—Natalie was Hap's lady fair—"and John will tell you who everybody is. Mother is particularly anxious that you know the important ones." I tumbled from the skies a bit; I knew that was the reason I was there. "I wish you luck remembering. It's awfully hard, especially the former husbands, but we haven't much of that, dear. New Englanders stick to the death, you know. I suppose it's another example of their thrift. Now don't fall me about Winthrop, there's a dear. I don't want him running away before I have a chance to see him, and he will if he's bored. One other thing: Mother will see that you meet His Grace." She wagged a shapely forefinger at me impressively. "Louie, talk French to him; your nicest most alluring French. We are angling for him for the summer." "Angling?" I asked. I managed to keep the tone from being astonished. "Oh, yes, everybody is. Why not say so? It isn't always we have the opportunity of entertaining a duke. The best last season could produce was a German baron and an Hungarian count. Now, His Grace must be ours for the summer, dear, no matter who manages to marry him. He has developed a passion for Natalie since he learned that her money is her own, but Hap looms up a barrier there. We don't know whether she will be an inducement or otherwise."

I must confess I was just a little bit shocked, for Jo had pounded such old-fashioned notions into my head.

"She isn't married yet," I remarked, thinking of my job. A part of which was to make Hap turn around and look.

"That's true. Anyhow I hope you and your French will help. Isn't it lucky you speak good French?"

That was one of the reasons of me, but of course she didn't know that.

"I'll do by best. The duke shall be ours. Vive le Duc!" I laughed. I thought of the bucolic Mr. Abbott and my task of encouraging Laura to marry a duke or notice the eligibles.

There was no time like the present; I went at it as I thought brilliantly.

"But why all this wonderful summer when you have decided to settle down a country housewife?"

"Oh, to look back upon," she smiled, "just as a girl likes to remember she was married in a white gown and orange blossoms. Besides, I haven't decided yet about that country housewife. Mother objects; not to Winthrop exactly, but the condition of affairs. I suppose I ought to assure myself I don't want a title?"

There was a chance to offer some excellent advice, but after such a brilliant opening I didn't have any to offer. I'm woefully deficient in all such matters. Jo has always done the advising in our family.

"So you are going after His Grace?" I parried.

"Oh, no. I'm going to assure myself I don't want him."

"Rather unpleasant for His Grace?" I laughed. "Suppose he should happen to fall in love with you during the process?"

"Oh, he won't," she replied. "He isn't crazy about me. It's Natalie. If I decide I want him I'll tell him the amount of my fortune."

"Oh!" I exclaimed, pretending I understood, even if I didn't. "Anyhow, I'll look after Mr. Abbott."

When Laura went below I lingered in the corridor looking down upon the Grand Stairway—it was a Grand Stairway—because I didn't have the courage as yet to venture into that wonderful below. The dowagers were arriving, but a younger crowd began to come up the stairway as the hour advanced. Mrs. Hazard appeared from somewhere suddenly, her eyes twinkling and her lips tight shut on a chuckle, as if the whole thing was a tremendous joke on somebody. I blew her a kiss as she went down, and thrilled as I watched her going. Shivered I suppose is what I really did.

Everything glittered, the lights, the gowns, the jewels; everything was strange and delightfully confusing. Strains from an orchestra floated up to me. I knew it was playing behind the palms; they always do. The air was heavy with the odor of flowers, and for the first time in my life I comprehended what it was to be intoxicated with sights and sounds.

I leaned there against the rail for an age; a spectator, completely out of the picture; like one's first day at the races—French races at that—not knowing the horses and the events. I finally decided to go down. I couldn't stay there looking over the rail for ever. I was expected to go down. I was wearing a gown that has cost Mrs. Hazard two thousand dollars for that especial purpose. And somewhere down there was Hap, and John Crowninshield, and the unknown duke concerning whom I was highly curious, and Natalie, who was going to look after me while I looked after the unknown Mr. Abbott.

I strained my eyes for a familiar face in that vast throng as I descended very, very leisurely. I had not realized how really awful it is to be alone in a crowd, how hard to pretend you're expecting every minute to speak to some one when you're not. My assurance? I had none. I was quaking with fear. But I had a wild idea that I wasn't quite lost as long as I was on the stairs. Little groups descended by me, but not with me. I was conspicuously alone. Several times people glanced at me curiously. I had another wild idea of speaking to some one. I had heard that society folk can't remember half the people they meet; but after all I hadn't the courage. I abandoned that and thought of a whole procession of things, all equally absurd, while every step was taking me down, down into—I knew not what.

I paused on a landing and tried to appear casual as my eyes searched vainly for Hap or John Crowninshield. I knew it was foolish even to hope; there was only one chance in a thousand and in that brilliant, wriggling jam. I wondered why I hadn't thought to make an appointment. No. They'd think I was crazy. Did people in society do such things? Gracious! My knees were getting wobbly from pure, unadulterated fright, and I stood glued to that landing as if it were a lifeboat on an open sea. But I couldn't stay there. People already were starting. I put out my foot, feeling for the edge of the step as one does in the dark, another, and another. I was at the bottom. It was the end. A move and I would be adrift! I turned my head in one last desperate attempt to see some one, and found myself looking straight at Hap and a dark girl whom I knew must be Natalie. I came awfully near kissing him that time, but Natalie—

for it was she—

put out a protecting hand, rather languid and fishy, but a never-to-be-forgotten hand.

"We've been waiting for you," she drawled, pressing my fingers and smiling a mere shadow of a smile that suited her calm, majestic beauty.

I smiled back, a scared, relieved sort of smile, and I put that "waiting" down in my memory. I only hoped some day I could make a sacrifice for her. And I almost got my hope.

"I was beginning to worry for fear we had missed you," she went on, after a most effective pause in which she regarded me through drooping lids. "Woodbury," she never called him Hap—"do you see the Abercrombies? They were here just a moment ago. I want them to meet Miss Codman."

My courage came back, and I managed to dislodge my tongue from the roof of my mouth and say something. I noticed the way she put it about the Abercrombies, and I began to feel sorry that I had to tear Hap out of her life for ever and give him to some other girl. But she was too old for him; she looked like his big sister. I thought of that coffee at the breakfast table while she chatted in a droopy, bored fashion so wholly a part of her it didn't appear in the least as a pose. I knew she would never pour coffee in that dear homely way for any man.

While I rather admired her and her beautiful poise—opposites do attract—I could imagine the effect she had on Mrs. Hazard. She wore jewels, a great many of them, and very handsome ones, although on her they did not look offensive or even ostentatious. She had certain eccentricities in wearing them, too, that were rather fetching. One thing particularly, she affected bracelets and wore them all on one arm. They were very glittery and handsome, but I can't say I particularly noticed the emerald bracelet that played such an important part afterward.

She melted forward while I trailed, looking back now and again to see that we hadn't lost Hap. I didn't know what moment some one would claim Natalie, and I would be adrift.

"Don't be afraid; you can't lose me," Hap assured me as I looked back once more.

It wasn't exactly what he said, but the tone was so odd on the "you" and "me" that I didn't look back again. I knew, though, he was just trying to be kind, for of course Natalie was in his head, or his heart, or wherever she was, and I was perfectly foolish thinking—anything!

She introduced me here and there. I wasn't brilliant; I couldn't be, skipping from place to place. I was cramming names anyhow to remember afterward. Many of them were familiar, and I had only to pin them to the individual for future reference. The older people put me at my ease and the younger ones upon my mettle. Occasionally a very young chap would frankly push toward us, ogle me, shout a bid for a dance in the same breath he murmured my name, sigh "Lovely weather!" or "Awful jam!" and push on. I began to enjoy myself, when I found that Hap was sticking close to me and that I didn't lose my head at impertinent remarks only intended to be witty.

Finally some one took Natalie away, and it just happened that Hap and I were left alone. Our eyes followed her retreating figure.

"We're deserted," I laughed, "but if you'll find Mr. Abbott for me you may follow and get her back."

"Why do you think I want to follow?" he asked, looking squarely into my eyes.

"Oh, don't you?" I parried.

"I asked you why?" he laughed, "but since you don't choose to answer me I'll answer you—I do not."

"It's awfully good of you," I murmured, "but if you'll find Mr. Abbott for me, or Mr. Crowninshield?"

"Do you want to get rid of me?"

"To be continued."

STOP SNEEZING AND SNIFFLING

For Hay Fever and Rose Cold Try Ely's Cream Balm. It Gives Instant Relief.

"Balm" in just the word for this soothing, healing, antiseptic Cream. Its effect in cases of Hay Fever and Rose Colds are almost magical. You just grease the nostrils with a little of the Cream, inhale the pleasant, aromatic fumes; and in a few minutes your head begins to clear, the soreness is relieved, and the sneezing, who have suffered for years with sniffing and weeping stopped. People Hay Fever and Rose Cold can be free from all the distressing symptoms by simply using Ely's Cream Balm morning and night during the Hay Fever Season.

Hay Fever is due to an irritated, inflamed condition of the mucous membrane (inside skin) of the nose and throat. Strong powders, snuffs and sprays simply aggravate the trouble, but Ely's Cream Balm soothes, heals and strengthens the raw, sore membranes, and in this way not only relieves the trouble but prevents its return.

And Many Are The Voices of Rushville People.

Thirty thousand voices—What a grand chorus! And that's the number of American men and women who are publicly praising Doan's Kidney Pills for relief from backache, kidney and bladder ills. They say it to friends. They tell it in the home papers. Rushville people are in this chorus. Here's a Rushville case.

S. Behout, 404 W. First St., Rushville, Ind., says: Doan's Kidney Pills are just as represented and I am glad to recommend them. I had pains through my back and kidneys and the action of my kidneys was irregular. When I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills I did so and they soon brought relief."

Mr. Behout is only one of many Rushville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the New Drug.

An eminent skin specialist recently discovered a new drug, othine-double strength, which is so uniformly successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by any leading druggists under absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first night's use will show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishes entirely. It is absolutely harmless, and cannot injure the most tender skin.

Be sure to ask any first class druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money back guarantee.

"Do You Want to Get Rid of Me?" He Demanded.

"Why, no," I replied, "but I've promised your sister to look after Mr. Abbott so he won't run away, and Mr. Crowninshield is to tell me who every one is."

"I can tell you that. If you care to know," he persisted.

"Why, I don't care," I replied, "but your mother wishes it. It's what I'm here for." It was the first time any reference had been made to my position. I did it purposely. It was a good thing for him to remember. "But if you insist, you'll have a tiresome time of it. Remember I have given you your chance to follow Miss Agazziz."

"Yes, I'll remember." He stared into my eyes with an expression in his own that I wasn't exactly able to take care of. I tried to keep my gaze steady, but I faltered and looked down.

"Awfully good of you," he laughed. I wanted to whack him. I don't believe he was ever serious about anything.

NO FEAR OF FURTHER ASSAULTS ON BORDER

Troops Along Mexican Line Amply Reinforced.

Washington, Aug. 16.—There is now, with the dispatch of the Third squadron of the Third cavalry from San Francisco to Fort Bliss, near El Paso, an ample force along the Mexican border to meet any contingency that might arise under the present conditions, according to a dispatch received at the war department from Colonel E. Z. Steever, commanding the border patrol at El Paso. Colonel Steever stated that since a squad had been sent to Columbus, N. M., to reinforce the company there under Major Rice, the danger has been greatly lessened of the rebels attacking the American troops.

According to a consular report from Juarez, General Orozco, the rebel leader, is still in that city with 400 men, and the Casas Grande district of Chihuahua is already in the possession of the federal forces. Orozco's force is now estimated at less than 1,000 and is daily diminishing.

BRUTAL WARFARE

Mexican Belligerents Do Not Stick to the Rules of the Game.

Monterey, Mex., Aug. 16.—Bands of rebels operating in the Torreon district are committing atrocities of a horrible character because it is claimed the government is permitting similar crimes on the part of federal troops under the operation of the proclamation suspending constitutional guarantees. Telegrams received here state that a small detachment of federal troops was captured by rebels in the Picardias canyon near Torreon, and nine of them, including one officer, were promptly hanged to trees.

Governor Addressed Class.

Valparaiso, Ind., Aug. 16.—The annual commencement exercises of Valparaiso university were held in the college auditorium last night. There were 250 graduates, representing thirty-six states, and Canada, Australia, Porto Rico, England, Ireland, Belgium, Costa Rica, Mexico and the District of Columbia. The address was delivered by Thomas R. Marshall, governor of Indiana.

William W. Wilson of the Third Illinois congressional district, was seated as a member of the house by a unanimous vote. Wilson's seat had been contested by F. J. Crowley.

The house has agreed to the senate amendment to the pension bill providing for the abolishment of pension agencies and distribution of pensions from the pension bureau.

SEEK TO REVIVE PROPOSED PACT

Rehearing of Constitution Case Demanded.

GOES TO A DIVIDED COURT

State Supreme Court Which Declared Act Proposing New Constitution for State to Be Unconstitutional, Was Divided on Question, Three to Two, and Friends of Proposition Now Are Preparing Petition For a Rehearing.

Indianapolis, Aug. 16.—Preparations are being made for further consideration of the case of the proposed new state constitution in the supreme court, where the act of the general assembly of 1911 providing for submitting the proposed pact to the people of the state for ratification or rejection was held to be unconstitutional by three judges, Judges Spencer and Morris, Democrats, voting to uphold the act. Attorneys employed by Governor Marshall, who drafted the measure and caused it to be introduced in the general assembly, are preparing a motion to file with the court when it convenes in September, asking for a rehearing of the case. The act provided the proposed pact should be submitted to the voters of the state at the general election this year.

After the promulgation of the acts of the general assembly, John T. Dye of the Marion county bar, brought suit in the Marion circuit court to enjoin the state election, commissioners from certifying the act to the voters. The case attracted some of the leading legal talent of the state to both sides. In the lower court Judge Remister held the act unconstitutional, and the higher court sustained his contention.

The measure in the general assembly was made the subject of a Democratic caucus party and was passed by a strict party vote. In the supreme court it was declared invalid by the vote of the two Republican judges, Judges Monks and Myers, and Democratic judge, Charles E. Cox.

TO FAVOR FARMERS

Railroad Commission's Policy as to Future Commodity Rates.

Indianapolis, Aug. 16.—In an opinion prepared by W. J. Wood, chairman of the state railroad commission, on which an order concerning freight rates on limestone dust for farm fertilizing purposes will be based, the commission has planned to lay down as a rule that all future rates on commodities designed to better farming conditions in the state are to be made on the actual cost of transportation to which is to be added only a small return to the carrier for service performed. It is the belief of the commission that the railroads should look for their greater returns on increased shipments of farm products, resulting from more productive lands. In the light of the opinion, Chairman Wood prepared to make an order making the rate on limestone dust for such purposes 40 cents a ton.

The adoption of the rate will mean a reduction of 32 cents a ton, the rate now being 72 cents. It developed in the hearing that the Illinois warehouse commission, which corresponds to the state railroad commission in Indiana, has established a rate of 25 cents a ton for limestone dust shipments in that state. The movement in that state is about 20,000 tons a year for fertilizer purposes. The movement in Indiana has been small. The defendant in the hearing before the railroad commission was the Vandalia Railroad company.

Congressman Barnhart Renominated.

Rochester, Ind., Aug. 16.—Congressman H. A. Barnhart, who recently was injured when his auto ran over him while he was cranking the machine, is still confined to his bed and was unable to attend the Thirteenth district Democratic congressional convention at Laporte, which renominated him. Mr. Barnhart, it is said, suffers intense pain, and it is feared his injuries are more severe than first thought.

Organized Band of Check Forgers.

Hammond, Ind., Aug. 16.—Disguising themselves as workmen, an organized band of check forgers invaded Indiana Harbor. When halted by the arrest of three of the men, the band had succeeded in obtaining $3,000 from merchants on forged pay checks on the Indiana Steel company. Only $300 of the money was recovered.

The Price Murder Trial.

Greensburg, Ind., Aug. 16.—A special venire of 100 names has been drawn from which to select a jury for the trial of Zack Price for murder, which begins here next Monday. This will be the second trial of this case. Price is charged with the killing of Fletcher Cook, in Jennings county, last September.

Two Boys and a Gun.

Ferris, Ind., Aug. 16.—Earl Jarvis, aged sixteen, fatally shot Ray Moon, aged fourteen, while playing Indian. Jarvis hid in a dark room and when Moon entered he fired a .38-caliber revolver. He claims he did not know it was loaded.

J. C. PATCHEN IS BEATEN AT LAST

J. C. Christman's Pacer Loses For
First Time This Year to Dave Wagoner's Horse.

TIES FOR 4th AT COLUMBUS

Clyde Nebro Wins Race and is 3d
in Another at Newcastle With New Richmond Colts.

Rushville fast horse men had nearly everything their own way in the races at Columbus and Newcastle yesterday. John Dagler managed to take second money with Ruth Randall, the much tooted grand circuit mare. Clyde Nebro won a first with James K. Nebro, Dave Wagoner won a race with Gay Patchen, and J. C. Patchen, J. C. Christman's horse, lost for the first time this season.

James K. Nebro had to go five heats to win the 2:25 pace at Newcastle. Clyde Nebro drove him to second place the first two heats and turned in and won the last three heats. The best time was 2:17 3/4. James K. Nebro was driven in the road race at the county fair by Bert Osborne only a year or so ago.

Another New Richmond colt in Clyde Nebro's stable finished in the money at Newcastle yesterday. Martin Kelly won that position in the 2:15 pace. He finished fourth the first two heats and third the last heat. The best time was 2:13 1/2.

Two Rushville horses were entered in the 2:18 trot at Newcastle, but only one. Ruth Randall, in John Dagler's stable, finished in the money. She won two seconds and a third. Springline in Fred Dagler's stable was entered but was not listed in the summary.

Clell Maple did not get in the money yesterday. He had Florence Patchen entered in the 2:25 and 2:15 pace, and Nellie Gray in the 2:15 pace. Frank Lindsay's horse, Billy H. was also entered in the latter pace, but was not in the money.

Gay Patchen, in the stable of Dave Wagoner, the Manila trainer, won the 2:14 pace at Columbus yesterday in straight heats. The time was 2:15 1/4, 2:13 1/2 and 2:15.

It was in this race that J. C. Patchen, J. C. Christman's pacer, was defeated for the first time this season. He has been carrying everything before him this year, but yesterday he met his Waterloo in Gay Patchen. He tied for fourth money.

Several Rushville horses were to be raced at Newcastle today.

TO RESUME UNION MEETS

Protestant Congregations Will be Addressed by W. H. Wylie.

With the discontinuance of the chautauqua, the summer meetings of the Protestant congregations of the city will be resumed at the Coliseum. The sermon Sunday evening will be preached by the Rev. W. H. Wylie of the St. Paul M. E. church, and will be addressed principally to men. The topic will be "Brothers-in-Law of the Church." Some special music will be arranged for the meeting.

PASS IT ROUND.

Knightstown Banner: "Pass prosperity around," is a slogan invented by ex-Senator Beveridge. From all outward appearances the "prosperity" to be passed around by Beveridge and those who follow in his foot steps is to induce the American people to pass prosperity up by defeating President William H. Taft for re-election.

MORE RESEMBLANCE.

Knightstown Banner: Abraham Lincoln opened the "door of hope" to the colored man, but T. R. kicked him out of it. Just another point of resemblance.

the army at which he was the head of but always had them to follow him.

Watson stated: "I have and never will go out to destroy a man politically if he is really sincere in his belief and conviction of the platform upon which he stands."

In regard to W. T. Durbin, Mr. Watson said that some newspapers had stated that the "gang" put Durbin through the convention. Watson himself was included in the so-called "gang" he said. As a matter of fact, he asserted, he did not know until the night before the convention that Durbin intended to be a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. He added that Indianapolis men were in no "gang" that he knew of and that they stood solidly for Léw Shank until Shank took himself out of the race and that Joseph B. Keating was for Shank.

"In regard to Horace Stilwell I will say that 'Hoddy' and I always have been good friends and I hope that we always will be, but in election times we can't exactly be lovers, but we will be alright again before long, and I will stand for him and vouch for him until the time when he left the party." Mr. Watson's speech was applauded vigorously.

SPEAKING OF BOSSES.

Knightstown Banner: The Bull Moose press, which is so disturbed that Governor Wilson should have to carry such a load as Murphy, Taggart and Sullivan—who were all against the candidate until they realized that their opposition was hopeless—seems to forget that Dr. Roosevelt is not without his burdens. Perkins, Munsey, Hanna and Bill Flinn are surely some load for a trust-busting, let-the-people-rule organization.

SOME FLOWERS FOR JOHN DAGLER

in Western Horseman With Expression of His Worth.

HIS ABILITY AS A TRAINER

Together with an excellent likeness of John Dagler, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dagler of this city and superintendent and trainer of the Reidston stock farm at Richmond, appears the following story in this week's issue of the Western Horseman.

It does not often happen that a trotter or pacer changes hands that the new owners do not make some radical changes with them in hitching, shoeing and balancing. To the credit of John Dagler, trainer and superintendent of Reidston farm, who broke, trained and developed him, it must be said when Baldy McGregor passed into the hands of trainer Andrews, no changes were made.

In conversation with Mr. Madden, his present owner, proprietor of Hamburg Place, Lexington, Ky., he remarked that Baldy McGregor was the best broken, mannered and developed three-year-old trotter he had ever owned or purchased and was in such racing condition at Pittsburgh that he believed two seconds faster time would not have been a hard task for him.

John Dagler is one of Indiana's youngest colt trainers and such an expression, coming from Mr. Madden unsolicited, speaks volumes for the ability and judgment which Dagler has used in his training methods.

and because of exposures of the loose way the school was managed, brought out by the school boy shooting in which Howard McDaniel lost his life, and because of which Carl Linscott and Carl Walker were sent to the reformatory.

L. B. Walker of Pendleton will succeed Mr. Lindley as superintendent. Roy P. Wisheart of Pendleton will be the high school principal. Miss Fredericka Gustin of Anderson will teach Latin and Miss Evangeline E. Lewis of Pendleton will act as assistant teacher in the high school.

The teachers in the Carthage public schools will be Miss Laura Goddard of Connersville, Miss Ella Kirkham of Anderson, Miss Maude Lewis of Pendleton, Miss Myrtle Magnus of Wilkinsburg, Pa., and Miss Bertha Perry, the latter being the teacher at the school for colored children.

A number of changes have been made in the county schools. Alfred C. Senour of Brookville will become principal of the New Salem high school, succeeding G. O. Ball. Miss Marie Budd of Terre Haute will succeed Ralph Peck as assistant principal.

Earl B. Marlatt of Connersville, brother of Mrs. J. H. Scholl of this city, will be the principal of the Raleigh high school next year. His predecessor was Scott Eaton. W. A. Stockinger, who was formerly a member of the high school faculty here, going from here to the Connersville public schools, will become principal of the Manila high school.

Mr. Stockinger's predecessor, James Sheedy, will go to Manila as principal of the high school. Earl Mahin was principal at Manila last year and will remain as assistant principal this year. His brother, Harry Mahin, who was assistant principal of the Manila high school last year, will be principal of the Glenwood high school next year. F. E. Satton of Indianapolis will succeed J. C. Bagley as principal of the Osborne school in Jackson township.

The preliminary township institute will be held in the court house the first Saturday in September—the seventh.

The Fifty-Sixth Annual Rush County Fair

Will be Held

August 20-21-22 and 23, 1912

A great effort has been made to make this the greatest Fair in its History. If we can have the support of the people, success is assured.

We have secured Mlle. LaBelle and Dare Devil Hurley in their 20th Century Automobile act, which is the most daring and thrilling out-door act out this season and is worth going miles to see. Nothing like it has ever been seen at a County Fair.

Don't fail to see it.

We have procured some of the best shows that we have ever been able to secure, all clean, moral shows that can be visited by men, women and children.

A full entry of exhibits in all classes.

Good music and exciting races.

Help to boost your County Fair and make it a great success.
